

1. Write a C program which can input some rivers name, length and country of origin. Display the name of the longest river
2. Write a C program which can input some book's name, author's name, pages, price. Display the book's information which's name containing the highest number of vowels
3. Write a C program which can input some fruits name, price, typical lowest wight, typical highest wight. Display all the fruits information which's name start with a vowel